Modelling of Pre- and Post-Impact Phases of Vehicular Collisions

920603	Modelling of Pre- and Post-Impact Phases of Vehicular Collisions1 Taner Keskin and Walter S. Reed ALFA Engrg., Inc.	1
920604	Collision Speed Estimation Using a Single Normalised Crush Depth- Impact Speed Characteristic13 Denis P. Wood Wood and Assoc.	13
920605	Application of the NHTSA Crash Database to Pole Impact Predictions29 Gustav A. Nystrom and Garrison Kost Failure Analysis Assoc., Inc.	29
920606	Calculating Speed from Heavy Truck Skid Marks35 Thomas R. Fries Forensic & Mechanical Engrg., Inc. Thomas D. Jones Talbott Assoc., Inc.	35
920607	A Method for Quantifying Vehicle Crush Stiffness Coefficients47 James A. Neptune, George Y. Blair, and James E. Flynn Blair, Church & Flynn Consulting Engineers	47
920750	Trajectory Animation on a Personal Computer53 Raymond M. Brach University of Notre Dame	53
920751	Improving Witness Contributions to Reconstruction and Animation61 Luther O. Cox, Jr., George W. Rivers, Jr., and Richard L. Burke LOC Engrg., Inc.	61
920752	Low Cost PC-Based Accident Reconstruction Animation69 Richard L. Burke, Luther O. Cox, Jr., and George W. Rivers, Jr. LOC Engrg., Inc.	69
920754	The Animation Computer as a 3-D Reconstruction Tool75 Wendell C. Hull and Barry E. Newton Wendell Hull & Assoc.	75
920755	Computer Animation Techniques for Use in Collision Reconstruction89 Wesley D. Grimes Cromack Engrg. Assoc., Inc.	89
920756	PC Based Accident Reconstruction Animation Using Autodesk 3D Studio97 Ralph Aronberg and Andrew A. Snider Aronberg and Assoc.	97
920757	Automated Animation for Human Subjects in the Crash Environment107 Richard W. McLay, Breton G. McLay, and Courtlan G. McLay National Forensic	107
920758	Application of Finite Element Computer Model Post-Processing to the Animation of Automobile Occupant Motion113 Charles L. Proctor, II University of Florida	113
920602	Automobile Damage Scales and the Effect on Injury Analysis117 Philip V. Hight and Thomas F. Fugger, Jr. Accident Research and Analysis John Marcosky Gateway Engrg.	117
